Dear New User,
Your account and profile have been created and your login information is below. Be sure to edit your Researcher Profile using the following link: New User's Profile

User ID: nonECUUser
Password: password

You will need to reference the email you received upon registration (or password reset) for your User ID and temporary password.
Non-ECU users access ePIRATE by first clicking the [click here] button.
During your first login (or upon password reset) you will enter the temporary password sent to you and then you will create a permanent password. This will become the password used to access ePIRATE.
After you enter your User ID and the temporary password contained in the email and click the “Login” button it will appear that the page refreshes and brings you back to the initial login screen. This is normal.

Click the [click here] button again to open the permanent password reset menu shown next.
Passwords for non-ECU user accounts have special requirements:

• Require a minimum password length of 12 characters
• Need to include a mix of three of these four groups:
  • Lower case alphabet
  • Uppercase alphabet
  • Numeric characters
  • Special characters (should not include any part of the user’s userid, first/last name, or employer name);

Passwords will expire and be reset every 90 days - the system will prompt this.
Enter your User ID and the temporary password in these boxes.

Use these two boxes to create and repeat a new password of your choosing. This will be the permanent password you use to access the system for the next 90 days.

Your password has expired. Please change your password.

After signing into this site, you are bound by the terms and conditions set forth when you received your account.

Non-ECU Registration
Once you update your password, you will land on the “Home” page of ePIRATE where you can access the features of the system.
